Camps and Conferences

This month has been packed full of retreats and conference opportunities! So many good things happening!

February kicked off with a weekend retreat made up of mainly middle school boys. Several churches from the eastern PA region gathered at Pinebrook Bible Conference and Retreat Center. The theme for the retreat was, Pursue God, based on Jeremiah 29:13, "You will seek Me and find Me when you seek Me with all your heart."

My biggest encouragement from the entire weekend was seeing all these young middle schoolers (and some high schoolers) bringing their Bibles to every session!! Wow!! What a great job the youth leaders are doing, helping these young people get in the Word of God and encouraging them to use a physical copy, especially in this digital age.

Next on this month's schedule was a week-long Missions Conference at Lancaster Bible College. Missionaries from around the world came to participate in this conference. BCM International was able to host a table outside the main auditorium and I was able to have many conversations with students who are considering going into full-time mission work.

I was able to sit on two different panels during the week to answer questions and share my experience on the topics of calling and overcoming obstacles to mission work.

The month ended at Camp Swatara, in Bethel, PA.

Vision and Values

Part of my personal mission and the work that I get to do with BCM is to help others develop their leadership. I had the privilege to meet with the pastor/elder board of a young church plant to lead a retreat on the importance and function of vision and values.

"Let your values and vision drive every decision"

This is a principle that I strive to live and lead with. When clarity is established on these two areas of leadership, you will exponentially increase your personal and professional influence. If you, or an organization you know of, would benefit from this type of workshop, let me know, I'd love to help!
